Author's Preface.

Most persons whose avocations or studie are connected even remotely with Chinese subjects are wont to confess the need of convenient manual of reference for the purpose of determining dates according to either the European or the Chinese method of computation; and a system of comparison for the names attributed to years. months, and other periods is also frequent. ly a desideratum with translators and readers of Chinese literature. The compiler of the following tables has thought, accordingly, that their publication in a convenient form may prove useful, although much yet remains to be done for the elaboration of comparative calendars, etc. that should leave nothing to be desired. With the exception of the Cyclical Table of Years, and the Table of Solar Terms, both one of Dows and Van Winkle's ICE of which were originally compiled by Dr. Morrison, and afterwards republished with improvements in Williams' Commercial Guide, from which (with some alteration) they are now copied, the whole of the matter assembled in the following pages is for the first time made accessible to general

THE BURLINGAME MISSION. THE number of discoveries recently made connection with the Burlingame Mission, would be surprising did it not unfortunately happen that they have been made before. Some of our contemporaries have, for instance, come to the conclusion that Mr Burlingame's status as set forth in the Chinese version of his appointment was a very different thing from the status which he gave out that he held to his friends in the United States and Europe. We have nothing to say against this conclusion, but think it as well to remind " recent discoverers" that the China Mail as early as April, 1868, had arrived at (and published) much the same belief as that now promulgated here and at Shanghai, and in our Overland edition of the 10th July, 1868, we printed the true translation of the terms employed in officially describing his appointment in the Peking Gazette. It therefore follows that the statements now made by our contemporaries are but repetitions of our now unahimous in their opinion of the Burlingame Mission. It is only by constant reference to the manner in which it has misropresented China that we can hope to rouse the attention of home politicians upon the matter. letter to our morning contemporary indulges in some curious language with regard to the mission in question. It asserts that "the prevailing sentiment which emphatically denounces the Burlingame Mission appears to emanate more from motives of individual interest, and feelings of party prejudice, than from a desire to encourage the Chinese people in their attempt to advance;" the said Chinese being credited with the " Voluntary choice of Mr Burlingame to represent them abroad." We are in a position to explicitly deny the truth of the former assertion as, regards the majority of Mr Burlingame's opponents and the latter in toto. Even were Mr Burlingame "chosen" by the Teung-li Yamen, he would in no sense whatever represent the voice of the people of China, whose dislike to foreigners is constantly manifested, although ten years have elapsed since perfect peace and smity have been established between the Peking and Foreign authorities. But we deny that he was voluntarily chosen even by letter is unfortunate. Mr Burlingame will endeavour to ameliorate the condition of the Chinese "by the use of those means which have proved successful in other countries." If such be the case preliminary campaign of unblushing misrepresentation of the Chinese as to their desire for progress, invitation to the Cross, etc., etc., and of British policy, which he terms the "brutal policy of force," is scarcely a fitting commence. ment for such a career! We are content For Singapore and Bombey.-Per Shof. to stand by our own forecast of the event; and it is satisfactory to find that, correspondents not withstanding, our views are being tardily endorsed by those who have hitherto been quasi-advocates of the mission of retrogression.

TO-DAY'S POLICE.

Mr May on the Bench. Tam Aho, Master of a Brothel in the aristocratic District of Taipingshan, was charged with having been found managing a streetgambling business this morning. - Mr Rodrigues, Portuguese Usher in the Magis trate's Court, stated that he saw about dozen round the defendant gambling, the Hongkong is most certainly one. At preparticular game engrossing their attention sent (the Circular says) the usual rule being the licensed form, viz Fan-tan in that the reception rooms are furnished Defendant, who was the central figure by the public, and the rest of the rooms the group, was counting out the cash with by the Governor. Certain modifications the stick which decides the destiny of so of this rule are permissible, but the many weak-minded fools—Indian P. C. 270 corroborated this statement, and produce Circular concludes with the following the gambling implements.—Defendant designificant paragraph: The rule would, nied the charge, and said he had gone to of course, only apply to a house used buy medicine for the mistress; which a the customary and official rest legation was corrected by the mistress who was called .- Mr May, however, asked the prisoner if he thought that the usher of the Court could take all the trouble he had done to bring a false charge against him. De fendant was simply a blackguard; he was the rogue, and the victims who played with amusement :" such, for instance, as the him were the fools; he lived on them be cause be was a little more clever than the But as he had been shown to be the manager of this gambling business, he (th Magistrate) would, as in every case where proved, give a very heavy punishment He would give prisoner the benefit of two months hard labour.

Low Asai, a carpenter, was caught in the coolie-room of the Hougkong Club-House into which he had entered by making a hole through the thin partition near the stair-case; he was in the act of rolling up bed-quilt when he was politely asked what business he bad there: The alarm was given when one of the coolies saw the car penter's foot coming through the partition This carpenter, though apparently known to the servants, is known to the Goal authorities, and is moreover very obliging disposition : he stole some thing before, because somebody told put his foot in is a chief. - Mr May said that a strong able bodied man in a position to obtain bit living honestly, ought to be ashamed himself, to go about sneaking and stealing, He must be of a very weak-minded disposition to go and steal because any one asked him to do so. He would get a more severe sentence than he got on the occasion, but he would give him another But (and he would make a note on before him, he would deport after which he would not be able to walk the streets of this Colony.

Inspector Burton made a charge against a Chinaman of having been found in possession of a dead pig which was unfit for the food of man. It appears that constable saw the prisoner walking in the the direction of the Slaughter House with something in a bag, which on examination proved to be a defunct "pig in a poke." It had evidently not been slaughtered, but had paid the debt of nature in a quiet sort of way. - Defendant stoutly maintained that he had killed his pig, and that he was going up the Hill .- Mr May remarked that he was not certain that the pig was being taken to the Slaughter House, or that it had died a natural death. He would give him the benefit of the doubt, and therefore dismissed the case.

The remanded case of cutting and wounding with a chopper was up again to-day The prisoner, it may be remembered, is coolie in the employ of Messrs Lane, Crawford & Co., and the wounded man (who came out of Hospital to-day) was in the same employ. Complainant and prisoner had had some words and a quarrel had led to some acts of violence, terminating in the wounds, which were two pretty severe cuts on the forearms. Prisoner was laboring under considerable provocation at the time, and as his employers spoke well of him, he was sentenced only three months' imprisonment.

August 3, 1869. Ayow v. S. Speechly, $5.40.—As defendant, failed to enter an appearance, judgment went by default.

$10.—Both these cases were postponed

L. M. Lobo v. R. S. Pinto, $120, on promissory note. - Defendant admitted the debt, and a decree was accordingly granted to the plaintiff for the amount.

J. B. Watson, (Stag Hotel) v. George Washington Anthony, $78.75. - This case was put down as settled.

Ho Acheung v. John Monck, 84, for portrait painted by the plaintiff. - This was one of those cases in which the defendant, shipmaster, refused to pay on account the unsatisfactory nature of the artist's performance. His Honor however, though that the picture was a very fair one, and decreed the defendant to pay the $4.

Carlison s, R. S. Walker, $486.79, for the recovery of balance of freight for goal; -Mr. Caldwell appeared for the plaintiff and Mr Hayllar, instructed by Mr Sharp was for the defendant.

This was an action to recover the balance of freight on a cargo of 316 tons of coal per to say things I never thought of, and the but to complete the business by yielding Naval Storekeeper here by Messre Gillespie & Co, Defendant is agent of the latter firm ; and as a large quantity of coal just was found in the coal, objection was taken to it, in addition to the quesion of balance of freight on the same $340 had been paid in Court, so that only

Mr Caldwell observed that, as there was a case pending before the Supreme Court which would embrace the personal liability of Mr Walker, His Honor would probably reserve his decision. His Honor said he would rather postpone he hearing, as he would be bound by the decision of the Court above. Mr Hayllar said that the case was not exactly similar, though it embraced

Mr Caldwell said he wished to examine shortly. Mr C. then stated the points of his case. He said that either the Naval torekeeper or Mr Walker were liable, and it was for the Court to decide.

Mr Hayllar said that, if the Court deoid ed to hold the Naval Storekeeper liable, M Walker would pay the amount, to avoid the trouble of another summons. Mr Caldwell then contended that there was a clause in the Bill of Lading to the ffect that "freight and all other condition se per charter" would be accepted as liabi ities; which imported, as it were. charter party into the Bill and formed a sort of double liability Freight was always payable if the goods were brought to the place of their destinaion r and he presumed the delivery question in the present case. damage or short delivery was not oross-action was always open cases. Evidence was called to prove the facts assumed in the above statement; and the Captain (Carllson), the mate, and Wieler (Messrs Bourjau, Hubener & Co.) vere examined

Mr Hayllar argued that Mr Walker himself had no personal interest whatever in the coal contracted for by the Admiralty with the firm of Messrs Gillespie, Scott & Co. in London; and called defendant to Mr Walker said that he was only intermediate agent for Messrs Gillespie, Scott & Co. for placing the coal in Naval Stores and for advancing any money on the charters. He had no profit but his commission (21%) on the transaction ; he had many shipments under the contract, and had only had one before objected to, in a case where the ship had unloaded partly in Lisbon. Had the Naval Storekeeper not objected to the coal he would have paid the freight as a matter of course; the coal was unusually dusty there is always a large quantity of dust.

His Honor said he was strongly impressed with the idea that Mr Walker was not personally liable. Mr Barber, engineer in charge at the Naval Yard, stated that it was on his report, on inspection, that the coal was re ected. There were three other vessels, and there was coal dust in all of them: but there was more in the one in question than His Honor suggested that the case should

Mr Hayllar said that, so far as Mr Walker was concerned, he wished to proteet Mr Price, as the Admiralty agent. was clearly a case as between the contracting parties at home-Gillespie & Co. and the Admiralty, and it would be much better fought at home. Mr Caldwell shortly replied; and His Honor remarked that prima facie the consignee on the bill of lading (Mr Price) was liable for freight. The case was then adjourned.

Chun Yu v. Chung Yi, $425.26 .- This was an action which had been postponed in order that the plaintiff might obtain letters of administration in an estate. Defendant (for whom Mr Hazeland appeared) and his witnesses positively swore that they had seen the alleged deceased man within the last few days, and that the case was therefore a fictitious one entirely. Plaintiff (who was represented by Mr Toller) produced the letters of administration as obtained on affidavit from the Court of Probate; and a witness favored the Court

The first a document I never saw in my life, no have I the remotest idea what it contains could scarcely abuse a thing of whose very existence I was not aware. In regard to the second I quote my own words verbatim-" experience has proved that the principles of English law combine in themselves those great attributes of order and tion, happiness and advancement of the human race." If this is abuse 1 guilty to the charge, throw myself on the community and promise to make any reparation that may be considered necessary to condone the offence. I found no fault with the treaty between England and America. Not I. I consider it a most admirable document and one which reflects the highest credit upon its framers. I do not complain of its provisions, but I do complain of the construction put upon essentially from those of the parent Gov. of the various provinces, in conjunction ernments. True, Q. E. MISSIONARIES. (N. O. Daily News.)

We subjoin a translation of a Memorial lately addressed to the Taung-li-yamen, regarding missionary complications that have arisen in various parts of China, and of the Emperor's reply. It will be seen that the tone of both is in favor of fair treatment. "[The Board of Foreign Affairs humbly] report that, in reference to certain cases

Recently, however, in the provinces, in cases growing out of this religion, several years have been suffered pass without a final settlement, and through these long delays they have taken a hundred different complications. Among these are cases in which the trou bles have sprung from converts who, relying on foreign power, have grown boasting and arrogant, and sought to gratify their spites; others, in which the soldiers and people themselves, excited beyond mes principal, that in the hurry of preparing sure, have given occasions for quarrel, so that there could not fail to be something found for foreign nations to lay hold of. Thus lately, we have repeatedly received dispatches in regard to the restoration of church building at Nan-yang, in the pro nien, in which, he says that, it being matter in which the treaty is concerned, he opinion, however right that might be, to seek the praise of the gentry and citizens nor did he dare, on the other hand, to alur over the matter and deceive the Emperor and thus endanger the public weal. He informs us, too, that the people of the Nanyang have circulated [inflammatory] cards, with the design of calling together the masses who have assumed a most threatening aspect, and that he was now still expediting measures to settle the difficulty. Again at Yang-chow, in Kiangsu, the people had collected together and beaten and insulted a christian teacher or teachers, and at Tai-Wan in the jurisdiction of Fuh-kieu braves had killed a convert. spatches had been received from the Vice-Tseng-kwo fan, saying that he had already examined into the Yang-chow affair and got hold of its leading characteristics, but nothing has been yet received from the sion of dissension. Your Ministers having deliberated upon the origin and nature of these religious troubles, it is but proper for us reverently to offer this secret memorial. We humbly beg the Empress downger and Emperora instructions, which we will use all diligence in obeying.

The Emperor's will will be given so

In the 7th year of Tung Chi, 9th month, and 24th day, the Cabinet Ministers rereived the imperial decree as follows: A memorial from the Board of Foreign Affairs in relation to certain cases connected with the propagation of religion in Ho-nan, Kiang-au, and Fuh-kien provinces, in which Chinese and Foreigners have not been able to agree, makes mention of a case relating to a Church building at Nanyang, in the province of Ho-nan, in which the people circulated cards with the design of calling together the masses who have assumed a most threatening aspect; of a case at Yangchow, in the province of Kingau, in which the people collected together and beat and insulted a Christian Teacher, and which Tseng-kwo-fan had informed them he had enquired into, and got hold of its leading characteristics; of another at Tai-Wan in which some braves had killed a christian convert, and in relation to which no despatches have yet been received from Ying-kwei as to how he was going to deal with it; that in the meantine the minister of the kingdom concerned has frequently, in more urgent language, requested that the leaders of these malefactors be apprehended and dealt with ; that as the matter of the propagators of christianity has already been fixed in the treaty, it would be very difficult to hinder it openly, but that to direct our own course, to follow the right and reject the wrong, lies wholly within ourselves; that at present in dealing with these various cases careful deliberation is indispensable that what is proper to be done should be done at once, and that what must be refused be clearly shown to the treaty, so that protracted delays and further complications growing out of them, may be prevented and that then finally the cause of good order can be maintained. I therefore direct Tseng-kwo-fan, Ying-kwei, Ma-Sing-I Ting-jili-chang, Pien-pau-ti, and Li-ho-nien, severally, to take up these unfinished religious litigations, and hasten to devise schemes for their final settlement, and that they do this without the least partiality or connivance with wrong, which would prevent the attainment of present justice, and prove a fertile source of future evils. I direct that copies of the original be made

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, I'HIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females. while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-

THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA & JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN."

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. (From the Straits Times," July 27, 1868. Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Bongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes on behalf of the Chinese Government; Li- and Queries on China and Japan, published censes issued to Pilots not being natives | monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour.

The publication is altogether a very in-Pilots, the Harbour Master will supply Ap- | teresting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support (From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.)

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of Chins and Japan ? are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese acholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will and instructions of the Harbour Master, be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who under whose order and control they are have directed their attention towards the placed, and who is invested with power to subject of Buddhism and its literature, and suspend or dismiss, subject to an appeal to generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India.

(From the "London Examiner," May 16, 1868.)

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan"] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds. considerably enhance its value. * * *

We have thus given in outline some of 4.—Any Commanding Officer employing the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate.
